Market Commentary

In the UK, the local election results showed significant Labour losses, creating uncertainty around potential leadership changes and the risk of expansionary fiscal policies that could increase government borrowing. Meanwhile, the latest GDP data showed growth, which was a welcome development. Upcoming changes to the energy price cap might increase inflationary pressures later in the year.

Globally, the Iran-U.S. conflict dominated May, creating sharp swings in energy prices. Brent crude fell sharply after reports of a preliminary 60-day ceasefire agreement. Both sides want the Strait of Hormuz reopened, but significant obstacles remain. Global oil inventory levels have fallen as a result. This puts upward pressure on inflation – a risk central banks are watching closely. Higher interest rates are a headwind for bonds and potentially for growth stocks.

The U.S. stock market has shown strong returns. These gains are largely in technology stocks, with AI-related names soaring whilst the broader market struggles.
